

Join The Intertwine Project Network

The Intertwine Project Network highlights the important collaborative work being done throughout the region by the partners of The Intertwine Alliance and other organizations. Joining the network connects your projects to the work of other partners, provides visibility and potentially resources, and shows that your work aligns with the larger, region-wide vision for The Intertwine, our region's network of parks, trails and natural areas.

Joining the Project Network is simple. A project must have:

- A minimum of three lead organizations (at least one of which is a partner in The Intertwine Alliance)
- A commitment to guiding the project and moving it forward in a collaborative manner

Joining the Project Network offers several benefits:

- A project page on The Intertwine Alliance website, which has been recently reorganized to highlight the collaborative work of our partners. Each project page includes a section that partners can log into and update themselves, as frequently as they wish. This includes a place for listing resources needed. The Alliance will direct funders and prospective partners to the project pages at every opportunity.
- Placement on the Project Network map, with visual connections to other projects and partners
- Promotion through The Intertwine Alliance's monthly newsletter and social media efforts
- Direct connections to other potential partners, through quarterly project leader meetings and other forms of introduction
- Use of the Intertwine Project Network logo
- Ability to ask for additional support of The Alliance staff, which we'll provide whenever possible or attempt to connect you to those who can help.
